

CONSTITUTION
of the
AFFILIATED TRIBES OF NORTHWEST INDIANS

PREAMBLE

We, the members of the Affiliated Tribes of Northwest Indians of the United States, invoking the divine blessing of the Creator upon our efforts and purposes, in order to preserve for ourselves and our descendants rights secured under Indian treaties and agreements with the United States, and all other rights and benefits to which we are entitled under the laws and Constitution of the United States and the several States, to enlighten the public toward a better understanding of the Indian people, to preserve Indian cultural values, and otherwise promote the welfare of the Indian people, do hereby establish this organization and solemnly pledge our devotion to and adoption of the following constitution:

ARTICLE I – NAME

The name of this organization shall be the Affiliated Tribes of Northwest Indians (ATNI).

ARTICLE II – MEMBERSHIP

SECTION 1. The membership shall be of the following four categories:

- A. Individual Membership. Any person of legal voting age, who is of Indian ancestry, or a native of Alaska, is eligible for individual membership. For purposes of this section, an Indian is a person who is an enrolled member of an Indian Tribe or band, or combination of tribes and bands, recognized by the United States Department of Interior, the Indian Claims Commission, or the United States Court of Claims.
- B. Tribal Membership. Any Tribe, band, or identifiable group of American Indians, Eskimos and Aleuts, recognized by the United States Department of Interior the Indian Claims Commission, or the United States Court of Claims shall be eligible for tribal membership, provided the following requirements are fulfilled:
1. A substantial number of its members reside upon the same reservation or, in the absence of a reservation, in the same general locality;
 2. It maintains a Tribal organization with regular officers and the means of transacting business and arriving at a reasonably accurate count of its membership; and

Constitution of the Affiliated Tribes of Northwest Indians

3. It is not a mere offshoot or fraction of an organized Tribe itself eligible for membership.
- C. Individual Membership. Non-Indian applicants may be admitted to nonvoting membership upon payment of annual dues as fixed by the Bylaws.
- D. Organization Membership. Tribal, Corporate and Nonprofit organizations may be admitted to nonvoting associate membership upon payment of annual dues as fixed by the Bylaws.
- E. Individuals or organizations that participate in subversive activities shall not be admitted to membership nor shall their contributions be accepted.

SECTION 2. Resignation

An individual or organizational member may at any time file his/her organization resignation in writing with the Executive Director and it shall become effective as of the date it is filed.

SECTION 3. Expulsion and Reinstatement of Members

The Executive Council may suspend or expel a member for cause, after a hearing with such person(s)/organization(s) and in such manner as the Executive Council shall direct. The Executive Council may also suspend or drop from membership any member for nonpayment of dues. The individual or organization may request a hearing with the Executive Council to appeal the decision. Any member suspended or expelled may be reinstated by the affirmative vote or a majority of the members of the Executive Council.

ARTICLE III – POLITICAL ACTIVITY

The Affiliated Tribes of Northwest Indians shall not engage in nor lend itself to any partisan political activity.

ARTICLE IV – ANNUAL CONVENTION

There shall be an annual convention of this organization, the location to be determined by the Executive Council at its regular meeting following each annual convention. The convention shall be the supreme governing body of this organization. The most current revision of Robert's Rules of Order shall govern all sessions of such convention, except where specifically provided otherwise in the Constitution and Bylaws or other organic documents.

ARTICLE V – ELECTIVE OFFICERS

SECTION 1. Officers

The officers of this organization shall be President, First Vice-President, Second Vice-President, Third Vice-President, Secretary, Assistant Secretary, and Treasurer who shall be nominated and elected, as set forth in Section 2. below:

Constitution of the Affiliated Tribes of Northwest Indians

SECTION 2. Nominations and Elections

- A. Nominations for President, First Vice-President, Second Vice-President, Third Vice-President, Secretary, Assistant Secretary, and Treasurer shall be made from the floor of the convention. A nomination does not need to be seconded.
- B. Election. The President, Vice-Presidents, Secretaries, and Treasurer shall be elected by secret ballot and by a majority vote of all members, individual and Tribal, present and voting. If the candidate with the highest number of votes should not receive a majority or there be a tie vote of all votes cast in a particular election, a further ballot shall be cast, listing the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes or the two candidates receiving the tie vote. In the case of a tie for second place, there shall be a runoff between the tied candidates. The winner of the runoff shall then appear on the next ballot with the candidate originally receiving the highest vote.

SECTION 3. Terms of Office

- A. The terms of the officers shall be staggered. President, Second Vice-President and Assistant Secretary shall be elected for three-year terms at the 2008 Annual Convention; the 1st Vice-President, 3rd Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer shall be elected for three year terms to begin at the 2009 Annual Convention.
- B. A vacancy in any elective office position shall be filled by appointment by the Executive Board of a person who shall serve the remainder of the term or until the next annual election whichever comes first.
- C. In the event that an officer is no longer a member of their Tribal governing body they will automatically resign from the ATNI Executive Board. The newly open position will be treated as a vacancy and filled accordingly.

SECTION 3. Basic Qualification of Officers

- A. Persons who are elected President or Vice-President must be members of their respective Tribal governing bodies.
- B. The Treasurer, Secretary, and Assistant Secretary need not be members of their Tribal governing bodies, but shall have their sanction.
- C. It is understood that each candidate's tribe will provide essential resources during the term of their office with ATNI; i.e., time, finances, and technical support. Furthermore those Tribal governing bodies are expected to pay the expenses of such officers attending meetings and conventions of this organization.

Constitution of the Affiliated Tribes of Northwest Indians

SECTION 4. Transition of Office

The incumbent Executive Board of the Annual Convention shall be responsible for the year's business and convention obligations until completion of elections, and swearing-in of the new officers. The swearing-in process shall be conducted by a Tribally authorized Indian Judge.

ARTICLE VI – ELIGIBILITY FOR VOTING

SECTION 1. Annual Conventions

Only paid up members, individual or tribal, shall be eligible to vote in any election or on any matter requiring a vote. Each individual member shall be entitled to one (1) vote. Each member tribe shall be entitled to cast votes, through its official delegate(s), depending upon the total Tribal enrollment as established in the Bylaws. Proxy voting is not permitted.

SECTION 2. Conferences and Special Executive Council Meetings

Only the membership of the Executive Council shall be eligible to vote at these meetings on issues, mandates, positions, and/or resolutions for the organization.

ARTICLE VII – EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

SECTION 1. Membership

The Executive Council shall consist of one (1) duly certified representative of each member tribe in addition to the elected officers. Tribal voting delegate and alternate(s) must be certified to the Rules and Credentials Committee by tribal resolution at each annual convention except that the chairman of the tribe shall be automatically certified as the voting delegate unless tribal resolution specifies otherwise. Each member of the Executive Council shall be entitled to one (1) vote, except that if an elected officer is the tribal voting delegate, he/she may cast one (1) vote for himself/herself and one (1) vote for the Tribe.

SECTION 2. Meetings

The Executive Council shall hold at least one Conference meeting between Annual Conventions, to be called by the President not less than three (3) months prior to the next Annual Convention to:

1. review the organization structure and effectiveness, and
2. to conduct or address necessary business and/or organizational policy issues of the organization, and
3. review the current status of federal and state programs and service or other events impacting Indian culture, programs, and/or services.

Constitution of the Affiliated Tribes of Northwest Indians

SECTION 3. Powers and Duties

The control, administration, and determination of policy of the organization shall be vested in the Executive Council with authority to delegate specific duties and responsibilities to the Executive Board, the Executive Director, and other officers and members; provided that such administrative policy shall not conflict with the action taken by the organization in a duly called and convened convention.

The Executive Council shall have the following powers and duties:

- A. To develop policies for the selection and supervision of the Executive Director and his/her duties.
- B. To administrate, regulate, manage, and develop policies and/or procedures for ATNI business or program activities.
- C. To adopt and/or amend the policies for the administration of the organization.
- D. To develop plans and organization systems to implement and monitor directives, mandates, and resolutions.
- E. To negotiate and accept funds from Federal and State sources and to solicit such funds when not in conflict with member Tribes. To solicit all other sources of financial assistant to fund activities not allowed or available under government contracts or grants.
- F. To organize and establish policy, procedures, operations, and/or regulations, as necessary, to manage ATNI business ventures.
- G. To accept gifts, bequests, and contributions to the organization from any source. Further, to establish a trust whose purpose, polices, and operations shall be consistent with Section 501(c)(3) or any other tax-exempt status authorized by the Department of Treasury Division of Internal Revenue Code and the regulations there under.
- H. To establish constitute committees and/or to employ members or nonmembers for such purposes as it deems necessary. The Executive Council may appoint the following committees to serve at the next annual convention: Rules and Credentials, Elections, Resolution, and such other committees as may be necessary for special work. Standing committees may also be appointed to serve in the interval between conventions for such work as may be specifically delegated.
- I. To adopt and amend policies and procedures manual(s) governing the administration of activities of the organization's officers and employees. The policies and procedures manual shall be consistent with the Constitution and Bylaws of this organization. These policies and procedures shall define procedures for disbursement of expenses or reimbursement of funds paid on behalf of the organization to the officers and others. This will include the terms and conditions under with the Executive Director may approve and voucher for payment expenses incurred necessary for the routine administration of the organization (e.g., postage, telephone, supplies, copy or faxing services, etc.) shall be approved and vouchered by the Executive Director or President for payment. The Treasurer shall provide a financial report to each ATNI
